

On-the-Job Training Testimonials Fall 2011

Without the On-the-Job Training program we would have been unable to rapidly expand our workforce and position ourselves to meet increased national and international demand for our product.

The On-the-Job Training program is fantastic! Our industry is so specialized; most people are not trained for it. With assistance from the OJT program, we hired new, quality employees that we may not have otherwise. I highly recommend OJT to businesses wishing to expand their workforce, but are unable due to a lack of training funds.

WorkSource is one of those key community resources I think is one of the best kept secrets for small business. They have individuals who may be in skills or job transitions, or because of the economy, need to forge a new career. Over the past two years their On-the-Job Training program has been a great partner to my small business and I have hired two employees through the program. They have been great to work with and they play an important role locally getting people retrained and positioned back into the workforce.
